P. H. Shurts Addresses a Letter to the Progressives.

TO THE PROGRESSIVES OF ROCKCASTLE:—

Returns from the election on Nov. 5th showed that there were over 4,000,000 Progressives in the United States. It also shows that there was a large vote in Kentucky. And in old Rockcastle there were nearly 600 and not a sign of an organization. A good showing for a party to not be only three months old. Now as we are the second strongest party in the nation, with some of the brightest men of our country in the National and State Progressive organizations and in my opinion will be a successful party in the near future.

With all the enthusiasm, firmness and zeal that prevailed at the Chicago conference last week and the interest our sister counties are taking in the Progressive party by making permanent organizations, I think it high time the Progressives of this county get together and perfect a county organization that we will be better prepared to fight the political battles for better government in County, State or Nation in the future.

Now if all progressives who may chance to read this and are interested in the county organization will write me a personal letter setting forth your views on the subject under consideration, then if there is enough interest manifested there will be a meeting for that purpose called in the near future so we may perfect such an organization.

We cordially invite all in the two old parties that believe in a progressive government and tired of bossism to join in with us and let's have a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Now with best wishes to all and a solicit for speedy replies,

I am respectfully yours,
A Progressive,
P. H. SHURTS

HASN'T E. Ky. got the progress bug to beat the cars. Why, it has only been a little while ago since those people up there in the mountains were perfectly satisfied if they got as far as Winchester any time within a week after they had started, and longer to get back again, and now Hazard and Mc Roberts are raising the fur because they can't go to Winchester and back within forty-eight hours. And they have had a railroad only about six weeks. They'll be wanting aeroplanes next and a pipe line to run their moonshine right into Louisville. By heck, anybody that wants to can say the mountain people of Eastern Kentucky are slower than molasses in winter and moss is growing on their backs, but he hadn't better say it up there. Not on his life! They are getting a move on, and it's greased all the way 'Ray for the mountains!

We don't use enough discrimination in giving presents. We offer the richest gifts to our wealthy but aged uncle, and give a bag of peanuts to the ragged little boy. What we ought to do is to give a years subscription to Hostetter's almanac to uncle Sneezes, and invite the poor little arab to come in and stick his skinny legs under our groaning board.

The annual report of the Interstate Commerce commission shows that during the last fiscal year 10,555 persons were killed on American railroads, and 169,588 injured, an increase of 189 killed and 19,379 injured, as compared with the statistics of the preceding year. It would seem to be in order for the press again to protest against "this needless slaughter."

As there are now over forty thousand men engaged in putting the finishing touches on the Panama canal it would seem that there will not be much difficulty about having the ditch completed in stipulated time.

COOKSBURG, DEC. 17, 1912

EDITOR SIGNAL:

I am not much of a writer, but I feel like I would like to say some thing to my fellow people in Rockcastle for I have been on a trip which I wish everybody in this county could take. My son, W. R. Allen, is mighty well fixed in Covington, Kentucky, and I went to pay him a visit. He showed me this wonderful place in which they keep automobiles. It is concrete they say and he told me it was fire proof. He is secretary of the company that owns the place. It is right on Scott street, near where the federal officers stay in Covington. My son took one of his big automobiles and put me in it and showed me lots of things that I had never dreamed of before. Then we went so fast and easy. At times we would go so fast I could hardly see the houses and yet never a jolt for the roads were so smooth. When I see how much better people live and how much more they have where they have good roads it made me feel like I wanted to get away from Rockcastle. If these people here could see the roads there wouldn't be one of them who would vote against bonds or anything else that would improve our roads. I never saw before such fine pikes and I asked some of the farmers there and they said they couldn't get along without them. That they were necessary for their success and happiness. They seem to think down there that bad roads like we have here are very expensive.

My son also showed me a great many fine school houses made of brick and stone. They are good to look at and the people take a great deal of interest in the schools. They have officers down there who are all the time looking out for children who do not go to school; then they make them go or punish the children very hard.

Why can't we down here have some of the good things they have there. There people seem to be just like us people except they take more interest in good roads and education. They get together and talk about all the things that will help the country. It is a wonderful place down there, but it is because the people work for it. When I see so many good things there I can understand why we have lost many of our good citizens. I wish everybody could go down there and see for themselves and you would come back shouting for good roads, good schools and better churches. We can, if we will, have some of those things here.

THE SCOURGE OF HOG CHOLERA

Cost the hog raiser millions of dollars last year and nothing short of vaccination seemed to offer the slightest promise of cure.

Prevention, however, is the logical solution of the question. Dr. Hess (M.D., D.V.S.) has always maintained that by giving Dr. Hess Stock Tonic to tone up and strengthen every organ in the system, to regulate the bowels, liver and kidneys, expel worms; and also thoroughly disinfect the premises, sleeping quarters and runs with Dr. Hess Dip and Disinfectant, would prevent an outbreak of this disease.

Read what one of the big hog raisers in the country says:

"During 1911 our country was visited by one of the worst hog plagues ever known. We fed Dr. Hess Stock Tonic, and only lost two head out of a herd of two hundred and ten."—Alex. Nevius, Modesta, Ill.

Also note what bulletin No. 182 of the Kansas State College says:

a. Prevent Hog Cholera

"When we recall the conditions which favor the disease and the manner in which its infection takes place, it will be seen that feeding and caring of hogs has much to do with the prevention of the cholera. Premises should be cleaned and disinfected regularly. The hogs themselves should be dipped every few weeks. Maintaining these conditions helps to keep up the vitality of the hog and in this way 'robustness of all limbs are guarded off. To aid digestion and circulation and to prevent worms, the bulletin recommends a formula of Wood Charcoal, Sulphur, Salt, Sodium Bicarbonate, Sodium Sulphate, Sodium Hyposulphate and Black Antim.

This formula, given in tablespoonful doses would undoubtedly be beneficial but would cost the hog raiser about 10c per pound. Now compare this with the formula for Dr. Hess Stock Tonic which is vastly superior and has stood the test of 20 years.

NUXOMICA. Digestive and Nerve Tonic.
SULPHATE OF IRON. Blood Builder & Expels Worms.
COMMON SALT. Appetizer. Expels Worms.
NITRATE OF POTASH. Acts upon the Kidneys.
PENGREEK. Tonic and Aromatic.

QUASSIA. Digestive & General Tonic. Expels Worms.
SULPHATE OF SODA. Laxative & acts upon the Liver.
EPSOM SALT. Laxative.
CHARCOAL. Prevents Noxious Gases.

This preparation is compounded by Dr. Hess (M.D., D.V.S.) and sold to you on a written guarantee and only costs 3c per month for the average hog. The definition of the ingredients are taken from the United States Dispensatory and noted medical authorities.

Feed your hogs

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

to prevent disease and expel worms. Sprinkle the runs and sleeping quarters with a solution of one of the foremost coal tar, creosote disinfectants known. Also dip your hogs with this solution when the weather will permit, and you will have no loss from disease.

PICTURES STILL HERE.

The Turner Art Exhibit, which a great many people of Mt. Vernon enjoyed last week, will be moved to the Langdon Dormitory, and open to the public every afternoon for the next few days. Admission 15 cents; children 10 cents. All who have paid the admission fee are entitled to come again.

The collection is unusually good, containing two hundred pictures in color and monotone. The subjects include beautiful reproductions of the standard art masterpieces of the world in painting, sculpture and architecture, as well as the most beautiful of nature's scenery. They were selected with a view to interesting children and especially valuable in the study of history and literature. All are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

Circuit Court begins Monday, January 6th.

Overcoats and Ladies coats at cut prices at Fish's.

George Owens and son Fred, will start a moving picture show in the Fish &amp; Richards building as soon as the plant can be installed.

Lester Coffey and Jeff Stigall are in jail charged with shooting Milt Rash at a Holy Roller meeting on Brindle Ridge last Saturday night. Coffey and Stigall were drunk and began shooting in the house where a large crowd had assembled and Rash was the victim, a ball striking him in the thigh producing a very painful but not serious wound.

Just before going to press the news reached us that, Mr. Brack Durham and Miss Eva Albright and Mr. Will Yaden and Miss Lena Albright all of Brodhead, had boarded the train at Livingston last night for Jellico and were married. The young people had gone to Livingston with the Brodhead Dramatic Club to present a play there last evening.

Mr. J. H. Reynolds, of Langford section, died Monday, after an illness of only seven days of pneumonia. The deceased was about 50 years of age and was one of the county's very best citizens. He was a Mason and was laid to rest with the honors of order in the Maret burying ground. He leaves a wife and eight children besides a host of relatives and friends, to mourn the loss.

The Xmas tree arranged for the school children at Red Hill by Miss Rebecca Watson, was postponed until yesterday on account of the death of Mr. J. H. Reynolds. But the house was crowded yesterday and the occasion was a most enjoyable one especially for the little tots, every one of whom received a present. The spirit of giving displayed by Miss Watson to our mind, is the ideal spirit of Xmas giving. At the Purcell school house on Thursday of last week, Miss Robertson had a similar treat for her country kindergarten class and this too was a scene of genuine happiness and delight for those little ones, which were present and handsomely remembered and provided for on that day.

Those who have means for giving and give only to those of their own family or some friend whom they feel might give them something, have very little of the spirit of genuine Xmas giving. It is not the value in dollars and cents that counts, but is the spirit that is worth most.

W. M. Poynter earnestly requests all those who are indebted to him to come at once and settle their accounts as he wants to balance his books before the close of 1912.

TOWN TAXES. The clerk to Board of Town Trustees has made up the tax list for 1913. The town Marshal will begin the collection of taxes on Wednesday January 1st.

Mr. Lloyd Maret, son of our local exchange manager, Mr. James Maret, and Miss Susie Tyree, of Livingston, boarded the train for Jellico Monday night where they were married Tuesday Morning. We extend hearty congratulations to this happy young couple.

LAIR-MULLINS.—Mr. John W. Mullins, one of the L. &amp; N.'s most proficient office men and one of the county's most honorable and upright young gentlemen, and Miss Clyde Lair, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lair, were married yesterday at the home of the bride, the Rev. Green Fish officiating. They left on the afternoon train for Louisville and other points to spend their honeymoon. We join with their many friends in congratulations.

J. F. Allen whom our people had known for past three years as Franklin Allison, has returned from Danville where he had been in custody under an old indictment charging him and a man named Burns with having obtained $2000 from a Danville bank a number of years ago on a forged draft. Burns was captured and sent to penitentiary where he died. Mr. Allen has shown to the satisfaction of his friends at least that he had no connection with the swindle but owing to the fact that he had no connection with the swindle which a trial would probably have delayed or frustrated he assumed the name of Allison which required but little change, and continued in his work of leasing many thousands acres of mineral lands in this county and in Virginia and East Tennessee which required several years to get into proper shape for promotion of big enterprises. Mrs. Davis a sister of Mr. Allen, and other wealthy relatives of Iowa, want on his bond and claim there will be no trouble to get an acquittal at the trial, if one is ever had. Eastern capitalist and Iowa parties are interested in pushing the work Allen has been on for some years in this county as well as East Tennessee and the promoter has now resumed actual operations in furthering proposed enterprises.

Preaching at the Presbyterian church Sunday.

The Christmas present for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Noe, which they prize more highly than anything else they could have received, was a fine boy baby.

There is not one person in business or holding an office in Mt. Vernon now that were doing so in the year 1877 when the writer came to this town. There are but three houses on north side of Main street east of railroad crossing that were here in 1877: they are Miss Kate Moore's, A. B. Furnish's and Mrs. D. N. Williams's houses.

MT. VERNON POST MASTERS

Inquiries made by a SIGNAL man, on the subject of Mt. Vernon's past post masters disclosed the fact that the first one, in the remembrance of our oldest citizens, to handle the mails at this office, was Joseph Reynolds the grandfather of Mrs. Wm. and D. C. Poynter. This was in the days long ago when postage stamps were not used each letter was "way billed" just as express and and freight matter is billed today. The next in line was Col. Richard

G. Williams, father of D. N. Williams. At that time the mail came in once a week. On one occasion the post master became annoyed by a persistent caller who rode up to the door some three or four times the same day asking if any mail for him. Becoming exasperated the mail dispenser answered, "No sir, there was none yesterday, none today and never will be. Now go on away and stop bothering me". About this time postage stamps came into use. On one occasion in stamping a letter the mucilage was faulty and the stamp didn't adhere to envelope very well. The postmaster took his pen and wrote on letter as follows: "Postage paid if the blamed thing sticks".

Charley Kirtley whom many of our people remember as a prominent lawyer was also one of the old time post masters. "Uncle Charlie" was an uncle of Mrs. W. M. and Mrs. D. C. Poynter. George Severance, the musician followed in the succession of mail dispenser. He was a cornetist and it is claimed he made a good officer though when he laid himself back on the counter and sent silvery notes from his instrument into the air he would finish the tune to the end before delivering mail to a waiting patron. W. J. Moore, familiarly known as Jack, then held the position up to and including 1879 or '80. The office was kept in the store of his sister Miss Kate Moore who now carries on a grocery store.

S. L. Whitehead (Steve) after working at Carpenters trade in Gainesville, Texas came back to Rockcastle hills and was later put in charge of postal card reading (if there were any at that time). The office was kept in J. L. Whitehead's drug store now where Dr. S. C. Davis is in the same line of business. Mrs. M. E. Brown wife of Dr. J. J. Brown, was next postmaster, about the year 1885. Robert Brown was assistant. Joshua Boring was the successor and was kept in the storehouse of White and Davis where the new brick store building of M. J. Miller is located. Mrs. Cleo W. Brown came next and the office was moved into the building now occupied by Sutton &amp; McBea. Mrs. Ella Baker succeeded to the office about 1897 and the location changed to the C. W. Adams property which was burned in the big fire of 1898. This building stood where Mrs. Ella Hiatt's residence is now located. W. B. Smith then held the office five or six years in the store house of U. G. Baker, near railroad crossing. Mrs. Anna E. Miller, our present excellent mail dispenser succeeded Mr. Smith and after running the business on north side of Main St., in the Sparks property moved it to south side of the street, its present location.

Are You Blue and Worried?

Nervous? Some of the time really ill? Catch cold easily and frequently suffer from biliousness or headache? The reason is that your system does not rid itself of the poisons in the blood; just as impossible as it is for the grate of a stove to rid itself of cinders. The waste does to us; exactly what the cinders do to the stove; make the fires burn low until enough cinders have accumulated and then prevent its burning at all. Your liver is sluggish—you are dull and heavy—sleep does not rest, nor is food appetizing. In this condition illness develops. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery eradicates the poisons from the body—a glyceric alterative extract made from bloodroot, golden seal and mandrake root, stone and queen's root, without the use of alcohol. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood.

Mrs. Blake.

Mrs. Bess Blake, of Port Dover, Ont., Box 56, writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from throat trouble, catarrh, indigestion, female troubles, biliousness, constipation and nervousness—at times I would be in bed, then able to be up again. Was under many different doctors' care, and would get better for a little while, then I would go down with chronic inflammation all through me. For nineteen years I had this poison in my blood. After trying nearly everything I got worse. I read in 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser' of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and have used five bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now able to do my work and walk with pleasure. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything I eat and drink and have not had for years a long enough to find something that made me feel well again."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

Train the colt early.

Train the horse carefully.

Flies cut down the milk supply.

You cannot begin to feed and train a colt too early.

The cow that gives much milk must have plenty to drink.

Climate is an element in the difficult art of turkey raising.

Continue the spraying of grapes with Bordeaux mixture to prevent rot.

It's an ill wind that chills a newborn animal. Time of year cuts no figure.

When chicks stand around listlessly and peep, lice are very often to blame.

In hard times or prosperous years the man with a few good cows is well insured.

A good cream separator with several good cows will soon abolish a mortgage.

Be patient with the cows. They can't get giving you a sweat in the face with their tails.

Wet mashers are better for fattening fowls because they are more easily digested than dry feeds.

Strips of cane sown at intervals, near the cow lot, will come in handy when pastures fall in early fall.

No land is so rich that its owner can afford to waste the manure that is made by his farm stock.

The work of lice is often mistaken for disease. When a foul smell seems to be ailing look for lice first.

When cultivated cowpeas are to be cut for hay, the ground does not want to be ridged up very much.

Move the colony houses and brood coops on to fresh ground every day or two and the chicks will grow faster.

Feeding the chicks too much is worse than waste, as feed lying about will soon sour, and then comes trouble.

Chickens at ten weeks old are ready for the broiler market and they ought to weigh two pounds by that time.

Crops must be gathered in proper condition and sent to the market fresh and clean. Careful grading is essential.

It costs a good deal of money to buy a satisfactory team. In most cases this can be avoided by the farmer raising his own.

Two pounds of mixed shorts and bran per cow per day is not sufficient for cows that are expected to give liberal flows of milk.

The breast of the Indian game is very much like that of the pheasant or the prairie chicken. The heart of the meat lies on the breast.

Veal calves in hot weather will grow better if kept during the day in a dark, cool stable, but the stable must be cleaned out and well ventilated.

Unless the little turkeys are allowed free range all the time, they should be kept shut in on rainy days and mornings when there is a heavy dew.

If the peas are obstinate about using the supports provided for them, give them a start up to the brush or wire, and they will cause no more trouble.

In order to get the greatest profit from the pigs on the farm, it is necessary to encourage them to consume as much of the cheap feeds as possible early in life.

Don't expect the hired man to work in hay and harvest till dark, and then milk a dozen cows after dark, and be very gentle about it. He isn't built that way.

Clover should be cut for hay when in first bloom. If left much longer than this, the seeds form and weaken the plant, and there is also a loss, due to the shattering of dry leaves.

To insure the highest per cent. of fertility in the eggs, stock ducks need bathing water, but this does not necessarily mean that they must have a stream or lake on which to disport themselves.

The peanut is becoming more important as a feed for stock, especially in the southern states. The vines with the nuts attached are often cured and they make a palatable hay for all kinds of farm stock.

One of the safe things to tie to on the farm is a good brood sow—pure bred. In a few years she and her offspring, if properly cared for, will put many dollars into the pockets of the farmers of the country.

The silo will supply the animals with succulent food during winter or in times of severe drought when pastures fail. Every farmer where a silo animals are kept should have a silo to save the entire corn plant for feeding purposes. Why not build a silo and plant corn to fill it?

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadbourne, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint. I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache.

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening.
